WonShot is a frantic top-down arcade shooter set in a deep space world where everything and anything is real and alive. Furry characters, metal ships, even powerful bombs collide with the fury of a thousand exploding stars. There are 4 different game modes in WonShot: Campaign, Mission, Challenge, and Endless. Campaign: play through the campaign, which is a single player game mode. You earn more money and stars when you finish levels. You can set your own goals or test your reflexes by trying to see how high you can score or how many times you can complete a level. Mission: play a series of missions that have a fixed number of levels. For every 10,000 points you earn you will earn 1 reward token. You can use your token to unlock new ships, or unlock new powers for your current ship. Challenge: 1v1 Deathmatch, the goal of the game is to destroy the enemy ship before it destroys you. Once you destroy your opponent you are immortal and free to complete all the levels to earn more points. You can still earn your reward tokens from completing levels, just more than someone who is not invincible. Endless: always stay alive to collect stars and get the most possible points you can! There is no rest mode, no replay able game modes, and no time limit! Every ship and every level is new. I think that's all I can think of, feel free to ask more! Peace Out! Note: Made this site back in 2011, got like 1000 views but then stopped updating the site. Deleted the whole thing in 2012. Enjoy playing, thanks for reading. Made an event wiki here: [11] I've been thinking about changing my name to Pac-Man vs Rockman, since they are so similar. I also want to do 'Dead Rising' (SideScroller) and 'Dead Rising 2' soon. Also, need to start making Pac-Man vs the World with all the events that happened over the years. # PS I also did a smaller Pac-Man vs Deadly from Action Button Games: [12] # Even though these games are based on Pac-Man, they are pretty much completely different. I always wanted to do Pac-Man vs Tet
