We continued to use our old PCmover Enterprise 8 version with no problems. A: I do not want to discourage you from doing your own thing, but it could be that your hardware is just not sufficient to run such a complex process. It has many subroutines, handling different video formats, and you might even need some hardware acceleration (or want to use some which isn't available on Windows itself), in which case it might not be the best investment of your time. I highly recommend the CCleaner, then install CCleaner 1.0 Beta 4 (CCleaner.exe file), run the CCleaner and then do the following: 1) Select the Advanced section at the top, then click the entry labeled Refresh button, then OK. 2) Press the button labeled Advanced... on the right, then click the button labeled Clean and select the first option, then OK. 3) Press the button labeled Advanced... on the right, then click the button labeled Clean and select the second option, then OK. 4) Press the button labeled Advanced... on the right, then click the button labeled Clean and select the third option, then OK. 5) Press the button labeled Advanced... on the right, then click the button labeled Clean and select the fourth option, then OK.
