zebNet Backup for Firefox Free Edition is a basic, yet effective piece of software that was developed to serve your backup needs, enabling you to create a duplicate of your browsing profile in Firefox, so you can recover it with ease, should something happen to the original. Clear-cut and intuitive looks The application features a rather basic user interface, which makes it quite accessible for anyone interested in working with it, as it requires a low amount of computer experience in order to handle it without a problem. The main window of zebNet Backup for Firefox Free Edition displays its two main functions in dedicated sections, so you can create duplicates or recover data from them in just a few mouse moves. Backup your Firefox browsing profile and restore it when needed In order for the program to function properly, you need to have Firefox installed on your system; this is the main prerequisite, since zebNet Backup for Firefox Free Edition automatically detects the storage location of all the targeted data. To run the copying operation, you simply need to press the corresponding button in the main window of the application and it will instantly estimate the total size of the file to be generated. You can then choose an output location suited for the ZBFX document that will be created, and press the 'Backup Now' button, with a progress bar informing you of the completion level of the task. On the other hand, if you wish to retrieve the data you lost or you want to transfer it to a new computer, you can use the restore function to load the preferred ZBFX file, then click on 'Recover Now' to commence the process. A handy backup instrument for Firefox Overall, zebNet Backup for Firefox Free Edition proves to be a useful and easy to understand utility that can you can resort to whenever you wish to create copies of your browsing data, performing the operation in little to no time.

The NF- $\kappa$ B transcription factor is a key regulator of the immune response and inflammation. There are five NF- $\kappa$ B proteins that include homo- or heterodimers in the cytoplasm, bind to specific DNA sequences and regulate the expression of multiple gene targets. An estimated one-half of human genes are regulated by the NF- $\kappa$ B signaling pathway, suggesting that NF- $\kappa$ B plays a key role in the pathogenesis of diseases such as inflammatory diseases, autoimmune diseases, neurodegenerative diseases and cancer. For example, the classic pro-inflammatory cytokine interleukin-1 $\beta$  (IL-1
